

Non-dilutive Funding and Supporting Resources for Startups

Friday, Feb. 24 | Noon – 1 p.m.

ABOUT

Learn about non-dilutive funding opportunities and resources available to accelerate your technology development and company growth. Our panel of experts will discuss various opportunities from federal and state government including valuable tax credit programs and grants. Additionally, we will focus on how best to craft a successful SBIR/STTR application and the resources available to help your early-stage startup succeed.

Submit questions through our registration process or ask them live during the broadcast!
